THE GENEALOGY AND HISTORY OF THE DESCENDANTS OF
JAMES JAMISON C

1650 - 1963

Miss Alvina Williams
Dallas Center, Iowa
of the 10th Generation

Dear Reader:

I have been several years getting this genealogy and I am sure that there are some changes in many of the families. There are probably deaths, marriages and many births that I do not have recorded as well as many addresses changed.

About five years ago I tried to bring all the records up to date. But so few would cooperate, I gave it up. Needless to say I have written over 350 letters. Many people were very helpful and prompt in answering but a few would not and never did answer. I am sure they received the letters as they were never returned marked unclaimed.

I trust everyone will understand if not all your family are recorded. To be exact it was 15 years ago that I sent my first letter. I received much information and help so kept writing in my spare time. It has been very discouraging at times, when a number of letters had to be written before a reply was received and then sometimes only a small portion of the information was given.

I write this so some of you will understand why your family record is not as complete as others. However I hope each of you who read this history of our family will find it as interesting as I have.

Alvina Williams

THE ORIGIN OF NAME AND EARLY HISTORY

The surnames Jameson, Jamison, Jamieson and Jemison are derived from the Baptismal form meaning "The son of James". The family have all come from a common ancestry in Scotland.

The family lived in the extreme north of Scotland in what is now Sutherland and Caithness. (It is believed the surnames "MacKames" was translated into the English equivalent of Jameson.)

Early records of members of the Family in England show that some of the ancestral emigrants to America came directly from Scotland, while others passed over into Northern Ireland. Tradition states three brothers who emigrated to this country established three separate branches of the Family. One brother settled in Virginia and spelled his name "Jameson"; the second brother settled in South Carolina and spelled his name "Jamieson"; while the third brother settled in Pennsylvania and spelled his name "Jamison".

The Jamisons who settled in Pennsylvania were in a large part drawn from the Province of Ulster, Ireland. The Province had become depopulated during the reign of Elizabeth I as a result of the Irish rebellions. The population was later increased by offers of land and other inducements to the Scotch who emigrated to Ulster. However, in the course of time as a result of persecutions and other reasons, many of the Scotch-Irish emigrated to America.

James Jamison, son of Alexander was born in 1650 in Glasgow, Scotland and emigrated to Galway, Ireland. In 1700 together with his two sons Robert and John he sailed for America and settled near York, Pennsylvania.

Robert, of whom nothing further is known. John was born in 1680.

On a mountain top some distance from Free Union, Virginia are graves of the Jamison Family. The graves were located in 1948 by two of John Jamison's great, great, great, great, Granddaughters, Mrs. Alice (Jamison) Thompson, of Free Union, Virginia, daughter of Owen B. Jamison; and Mrs. Sallie (Jamison) Moore, of Roanoke, Virginia, daughter of Cornelius Jamison.

No further information could be obtained about the graves.

JAMES JAMISON

James Jamison, son of Alexander Jamison, was born in 1650 in Glasgow, Scotland. He emigrated to the country of Galway, Ireland where he married and lived till about 1700 when with his two sons, Robert of whom nothing further is known, and John sailed for America. They landed and settled in the southern part of Pennsylvania on the Susquehanna River not far from the present city of York, Pennsylvania.

Mr. Jamison's parents lived in Glasgow, Scotland and they probably died there. Whom he married, whether there were other children besides the two sons mentioned, and many other things that might be of interest are unknown.

It has been stated that the Jamisons' have a strong passion for learning and as a family, cherished their gentleness of blood as of great value.

John Jamison, son of James Jamison was born in 1680. Whom he married is unknown. Also the date of his death is unknown. It is not known if there were more children than the one son Thomas.

THOMAS JAMISON

Thomas Jamison, son of John Jamison; was born Nov. 7, 1732. He was a planter. In his early manhood he went with the milita men under General Washington, through the campaign that ended July 9, 1755 in Braddocks defeat. After his marriage to Jane Dickey in 1756, he settled in Georgia. While a resident there four children were born.

Jane Dickey was born in 1742 and died in 1763. Buried in Indiana.

Mr. Jamsion then moved with his four children to a place near Charlottesville, Virginia, known as Jamison Mountain in Albemarle County. Captain Thomas Jamison also lived for some time near a stream called "Pig River" in Franklin County, Virginia.

Captain Thomas Jamison died April 6, 1830.

Mr. Thomas Jamison's oldest son, Samuel Jamison, then very young, was in the Army of the Revolution and was with General Washington when he took command of the Army July 3, 1775 in Cambridge, Mass. It is not known what became of him.

A Samuel Jamison is mentioned in 1786 as an inhabitant of Lisbon, New Hampshire, who had served in the Revolutionary War, and he may have been the same one who accompanied Washington to Cambridge, Mass.

Mr. Thomas Jamison's next son John Jamison, was born in 1758. He also served in the Revolutionary War. He married Elizabeth McWilliams. They had two sons Samuel Jamison and John Jamison.

When Samuel and John were quite young men, they moved from Franklin County Virginia to Madison County, Kentucky. Later the boys returned to Virginia and married in Franklin County.

John Jamison died in 1842. It is not known when Elizabeth McWilliams was born or died, or if they returned to Virginia with the boys and died there.

It is not known what became of Mr. Thomas Jamison's other two children. If they were boys or girls, or if they grew up and were married. Many other things about them also of interest are unknown.

JOHN JAMISON

Then later a depot station on the Norfolk and Western Railroad, fifteen miles south of Roanoke, Virginia. Here they lived and eleven children were born. Six daughters and five sons.

John Jamison was spare built, rather slim, scarcely six feet tall, fair complexion, blue eyes, wore a short beard, upper lip clipped close, very strong and active. He was of a Scotch-Irish descent.

He was drafted in the War of 1812, while he was of the Dunkard faith, he did not shrink from his duty and rode horseback as far as Lynchburg, Virginia for service. Fortunately for him peace was made before he became active in warfare, and he soon returned to his home.

Mr. and Mrs. Jamison could read, write and speak the Dutch and German language as well as English. They were active members of the Dunkard Church. His good wife, Catherine Boone, was of Dutch ancestry, rather tall, stoutly built, strong, active and very ambitious, very fond of horseback riding. Which was the principal means of travel at that time. Mr. Jamison was also a good horseman and usually kept several good travelers for their own use.

John Jamison died Oct. 5, 1864 during the Civil War. His wife, Catherine Boone, lived only a short time after the War closed. She died Aug. 29, 1866. They are both buried at the Jamison burial grounds on their old home place south of Boones Mill, Virginia.

John Jamison's older brother, Samuel Jamison, was born in 1781. Married Winnie Bird. They lived at Shady Grove in the lower part of Franklin County, Virginia near the Henry County line.

John William Jamison, the seventh generation of James Jamison. The fifth child and second son of Samuel Jamison and Sarah Webster.

John William was born Oct. 18, 1838 just past 18 years old when he married Elizabeth Sink Jan. 21, 1857. Elizabeth Sink was born Oct. 23, 1838.

John William died April 5, 1891 at the age of 52 years. He is buried in Virginia.

Elizabeth lived 25 years longer than her husband and died March 13, 1916 at the age of 77 years. She is buried at Quinter, Kansas, where she lived some eight or ten years with 8 of her children who had moved to the West.

Although John William and Elizabeth were permitted only 34 years of married life together, they were blessed with a family of 11 children, 7 sons and 4 daughters. Five of their children celebrated their 60th to 67th wedding anniversary and 3 were married from 42 to 46 years.

Of these 11 children only one is living, Sarah Elizabeth (Mrs. J. B. Flora) at Dallas Center, Iowa. From these 11 children there were 100 grand children. There were 11 grand children that never married. 19 grand children not living and 3 have reached their 50th wedding anniversary.

There are 5 generations since John William and Elizabeth's marriage in 1857 - 106 years ago.

From the 89 grand children that were married I have a record of 897 descendants.
